Mr. and Mrs. John Kautz Are Honored in 50th Anniversary

The Community Room of Everglades Federal in Pahokee was the golden scene Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. of an open house, honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Kautz, Sr., of Canal Point and Jensen Beach on their 50th wedding anniversary, with three sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kautz of Pahokee, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kautz of Canal Point and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kautz of Melbourne, hosts.

Mrs. Kautz wore a yellow rose corsage touched with gold hearts and her daughters, smaller yellow rose corsages. Mr. Kautz and his sons each wore a yellow chrysanthemum boutonniere.

The serving table, laid with a gold lace cloth, had as a centerpiece a large gold heart bearing 50 yellow roses with an arrangement of fern tied with gold satin ribbons at the base. Also on the table was a large two-tiered white cake decorated with yellow icing and topped with golden sugar bells. The table was lighted with golden tapers in gold holders.

On the gifts table was a picture of the honored couple framed in silver, taken on their 25th wedding anniversary, and a family tree in gold, at the foot of which was a miniature bride and groom standing in an archway. ## Strong Rules Of Protection On Pesticides

The Florida Department of Agriculture has announced it has strengthened its rules protecting consumers and responsible vendors of pesticides and fertilizers.

The revised rules, containing both new and modified sections, were recommended by Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Connor and approved by the State's Pesticide and Fertilizer Technical Committee. They became effective Friday, January 20.

Particular stress has been placed on labeling requirements in the new set of rules.

"This has been done to provide greater protection for pesticide and fertilizer users, both from the standpoint of safety and product information," according to Vincent Sigafoos, assistant director of SDA's Inspection Division.

"Some revisions also were necessary," he said, "because of the increasing number of products on the market and to strengthen provisions of the State's new fertilizer and pesticide laws."

He pointed out that special emphasis has been placed on the proper labeling of safety instructions.

"These warning statements must state clearly, in non-technical language, the potential hazards involved in the use of pesticide products," he explained.

For example, special warning words such as "Caution," "Warning," and "Danger" will be used on labels depending on the toxicity of materials contained in the various pesticide and fertilizer-pesticide products.

Light Planes To Rush Delivery Of State Mail

Light planes will be used to speed up mail delivery in Florida — a forerunner of possible similar service in other states, Deputy Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen announced yesterday.

But, if you think this has brought the mail-by-air full cycle back to the early days of flying you are wrong.

"This is going to be a most reliable service," Belen said when the question was put to him in an interview. "I wouldn't compare it with the Ford trimotor I rode in a few years ago which is now in the Smithsonian."

In any case, the new air service — for first class mail but not air mail, which gets even more expedited handling — will make it possible for practically every letter mailed in Florida to be delivered the next day.

The air mail service, now up for bids, is expected to begin about April 1. It will carry mail between Orlando, where the post office already has established a sectional center office, and north Florida cities including Jacksonville, Tallahassee, Panama City and Pensacola.

"For the first time in history, first class mail deposited by 5 p.m. in Miami will be delivered the following day in Pensacola," Belen explained at a press conference.

Registered Nurses In Great Demand

The registered nurse today is probably more in demand than at any previous time in history. Many hospitals are taking advertisements in newspapers far removed from their own area in order to attract nurses to their staff. In fact, the nursing school graduate or the established registered nurse of today has a multiplicity of potential employers to choose from that is probably unmatched in any other profession.

How then can an organization such as the United States Air Force hope to attract sufficient number of nurses to maintain its Nurse Corps?

Local Air Force Recruiting Sergeant Joe Bloxom states that the task isn't easy but then it never was. "The main problem," according to Sgt. Bloxom, "is letting nurses know exactly what the Air Force can offer them. Many of the so called 'new' benefits that nurses are being offered today by potential employers, the Air Force has offered for years. Many more, of course, are still only found in the Air Force."

Sgt. Bloxom advised local nurses that, with so many positions to choose from, they owe it to themselves to get the facts on all that are available. This most definitely includes the Air Force, of course. Information may be obtained from Sgt. Bloxom at the Air Force Recruiting office, 3238 South Dixie in West Palm Beach, Phone 833-5133. Sgt. Bloxom may also be contacted at the Selective Service office in Belle Glade each Tuesday at 1:00 p. m. and each Thursday at 10:00 a. m.

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with

For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front line of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines.
